

Figure 4: Pre-treatment lateral cephalometric radiograph and analysis. Cephalometric radiograph was taken with the patient posturing the mandible backwards into the first tooth contact position. Cephalometric analysis showed a hypodivergent mandible angle, a Class III skeletal relation, anterior crossbite with proclined maxillary incisors and normal inclination of the mandibular incisors.