

Figure 2: Lateral cephalogram of the patient with Nemaline Myopathy. (A) The patient demonstrated clockwise rotation of the mandible, which gives the patient a Class II skeletal relationship, increased mandibular plane angle, and increased lower facial height. The soft palate was very prominent (red arrow). (B) cephalometric tracing and analysis.